FIVE CENTS NOT ENOUGH FOR NAMES

the necessary impression on Congress. At Ewa and Waiwae it is anticipated that the showing of the petition will equal that portion published by the Advertiser the other day, in which the signers, with a very few exceptions, were either persons interested in the condemnation suit or their employees. Kahuku is expected by the petition workers to break about even. Every one in the Haleiwa Hotel is expected to sign, whether a new arrival or not.

In fact, the hopes of the petition workers are very high, and they are already talking about the time they can have after they get back and display the long list of names that they believe will be worth the money—ten cents each.

Civic Federation May Act. Meanwhile, the site agitation is moving in another direction. The Civic Federation, of which the deputy attorney-general of the Territory is president, is contemplating calling a public meeting on May 26, to secure a "public expression of opinion" on the Federal building site.

Just what this proposition means does not yet appear. One man suggested that it was a means for packing a Civic Federation meeting and thus enabling the Governor to possibly rap the Delegate over the knuckles without coming into the open. The Civic Federation meeting would be regarded as a movement made in good faith if it were not for the close relation between the head of the organization and the Governor, who doesn't believe in a change, but would like to have a unanimous expression in favor of a change, whereupon he would change.

Legal Difficulty. Another legal difficulty ahead of a change of the site came to light this morning, when it was reported that the Bishop Estate would fight by every legal means possible the transfer of any of the property it had made over to the government for site purposes. Those who contributed money in good faith for street purposes are also likely to fight, and fight hard, before they will allow the government to break faith with them.

As for the petitions, the names are coming in rather slowly.

"There is no money in this proposition, and we are going to quit. We are working hard, but we only get five cents for a name. This is lousy (good for nothing)," say the runners.

Most of the runners, who have either quit work or are yet in the employ of the promoters of the Irwin site for the Federal building, congregated at the fishmarket after their day's work. There they tell each other their experiences of the day. Most of their stories are rather discouraging.

It would be a different thing, they say, if they were paid twenty-five cents a name.

COLLECTORS OF STAMPS UNITE

Lovers of stamp-collecting met last night at the home of Charles Hueston, Jr., and finished organizing the Hawaiian Philatelic society. A philatelist is a stamp collector, and there appear to be a large number of them in the islands.

President William Walters was in the chair and Secretary Bruce Cartwright, Jr., read the new constitution. Plans for future development were discussed and it was decided not to limit the membership of the society. Several fine stamp collections were shown and much admired.

During the meeting A. F. Cooke showed a check received from a Philatelic society for claim against the postoffice department for the loss of stamps in transit on account of a train robbery in New Mexico. Nearly $600 was paid back by the postoffice authorities through the influence of the society.

The following are the charter members of the new born society: Wm. Walters, president; John Gribble, vice president; F. W. Wood, treasurer; B. Cartwright, Jr., secretary; C. Hueston, Jr., A. F. Cooke, C. Knutson, board of trustees; F. F. Hedemann, W. D. Westervelt, John C. Glade, Job Batchelor, B. F. Beardmore, C. J. Cooper, W. T. Monarrat, Edw. M. Ehrhorn, C. F. Maxwell, C. D. Wright, J. S. Emerson, Aug. P. Costabriner, Arthur L. Mackaye, Richard Woodson.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. Walters on Thursday evening, June 15. The initiation fee is fifty cents and the dues fifty cents a year.

FUND COLLECTED FOR KOREAN RELIEF

Plans to Secure Independence of Country Revived Here.

LEADERS WOULD GET FINANCIAL SUPPORT

Editor Says Instead of Getting Countrymen From Yucatan, Will Send Subscriptions Home.

Instead of using the funds they are collecting to bring Koreans from Yucatan, local Korean leaders are planning to raise a large amount in subscriptions to aid in the secret work going on for the independence of their mother country, according to well-defined stories going around among the workers themselves. This movement among the Koreans is no new thing but it has been given added strength lately. There had been some talk of raising money to get Koreans from Yucatan, but, says N. H. Nhee, of the United Korean News, this is as yet little more than a vague plan.

Mr. Nhee, says that the Koreans do not wish to remain quietly under the administration of the Japanese in Korea. He thinks that the time will come when the Koreans in Korea will struggle for the independence of their country. But they will not do anything against the present administration until they are quite certain that their efforts will be successful.

"There is a feeling of discontent among the Koreans in Korea and throughout the world, against the Korean annexation to Japan," said Mr. Nhee. "The people want to break away from the bondage of the Japanese Government; but since they know their weakness, at least, at the present time, they do not want to do anything against the Japanese administration, unless they know they can accomplish something in the end."

"The annexation of Korea to Japan was brought about through the corruption of the royal family, as well as the government officials. They were not attentive enough in the discharge of their duties, and hence the people began to show bitter feelings against them. As the result of their faithlessness to the people, they were rendered perfectly helpless when the trouble came."

"The Koreans today are trying to raise funds to help restore the independence of Korea from Japan. The money is needed for military purposes."

"The Koreans throughout the world are trying to do something for their country. They would like to become an independent country, rather than being under the dictatorship of the Japanese officials who are resident in Korea."

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Late estimates on the percentage of recoveries under the new emollient treatment for Bright's Disease are as follows:

Where patient is much weakened and crises may be expected in from five to ten days, probably not more than 10% to 20% recover. Where physicians aid with efforts to restrain fatal symptoms this percentage is increased. In cases where patients have from thirty to sixty days of life the efficiency is very much higher.

Where patients do not wait until bed-ridden, probably three-fourths yield.

And in cases that take the new emollient treatment on the appearance of the disease nearly nine out of ten respond.

Albumen Casts and dropsy do not prevent recovery. The point is that the renal inflammation should be attacked before the heart and physical system are broken down.

The new emollient treatment is known as Fulton's Renal Compound. It can be had in Honolulu at the Honolulu Drug Co.

We desire every patient to write us who is not noting the usual improvement by the third week. Literature mailed free. Jno. J. Fulton Co., 645 Battery St., San Francisco, Cal. We invite correspondence with physicians who have obstinate cases.

AUTOMOBILES IN PAIRS ARE CHEAP

If you would buy yourself an automobile, get him in pairs or flocks, for they come much cheaper. The city fathers have been casting about for two machines for use of the police department.

They have received a number of offers for sale of brand new five-seated cars. In a communication, the von Hamann-Young people offer two machines at $2500, Schuman comes forward with a pair at $2700, while E. G. Hall have two autos that they might be induced to part with for $2300.

Shirley Jarrett will be given a chance to try out the respective machines and pass upon their merits. The decision may have something to do with a final selection by the board.

ROOSEVELT TELLS HOW HE STANDS

NEW YORK, April 29.—The Saturday Evening Post of this week contains an interview with Theodore Roosevelt in many ways remarkable. It is written by Henry Beach Needham, who has long known the Colonel. It is entitled "Where Roosevelt Stands Today." A few of its parts are given below:

I am not a candidate for the Presidency. And my real friends will do me a cruel injustice if they seek to make me such.

Of the ten hundred and fifteen delegates at the Saratoga Convention perhaps not more than fifteen, certainly less than one hundred, were real supporters of mine.

Most of the delegates did not agree with me on the tariff question and distrusted me, as being too radical in other matters, but they wished to fight for honesty and popular government and against boss rule. They knew that they could win only under my leadership, but they made no secret that they were against me personally. Take the Committee on Resolutions.

In their first draft of the platform there was a mild tribute to me, which welcomed me back to public life as the exponent of honesty, but the committee finally struck this out—a majority wouldn't stand for it. They were determined to keep out of the platform any allusion to me personally. This by itself shows the utter absurdity of thinking I could influence them on the tariff.

I hadn't it in my power, as they knew, to reward a human being or to punish a human being. Not one man who voted against me at Saratoga had anything to fear from me for so doing; not one man who voted for me at Saratoga had anything to expect from me for his support. I got out of that convention every office of progressive action that it was humanly possible to get out of it.

Gov. Hughes and his supporters were entirely responsible for my appearance at Saratoga. I didn't get them into the fight. They were in the fight. All I did was to try to help them out in a fight in which they were right. As long as they were in it I couldn't stay out.

When I got back from Europe I wanted to go home and be quiet. I didn't want to mix in politics. But I was importuned on every hand by the insurgents of the West and by the progressives of my own State—to help along the movement for honesty in high places in the political and financial world. It seemed to me that it was my duty to try to help them in the fight for popular government.

without any regard to what the effect might be to me personally. I didn't set how I could keep out of the fight and retain my self-control; so I went into it.

I feel that the country is to be congratulated upon the probability of obtaining a closer reciprocity of tariff and trade relations with Canada.

In my judgement the Constitution should be so amended as to provide for the direct election of United States Senators by the people. I emphatically believe in that change. Those opposing such an amendment are merely expressing the same fear that moved the framers of the Constitution to commit the election of President to the Electoral College.

Comparatively short experience convinced the Nation that the President should be voted for directly by the people, and although the form of the Electoral College has been retained the electors have no function except to ratify the popular verdict. And if it should be thought necessary, even this superfluous machinery could with advantage be abolished.

I believe, also, that there should be direct election of delegates to national convention.

Even Gov. Baldwin of Connecticut—with whom, you remember, I had a passage-at-arms in the campaign—has recommended to the Legislature a "careful consideration" of direct primaries! Each State must determine for itself, by testing the scheme in practice, whether all elective officers are to be nominated directly by the people or by certain stipulated officers.

Asked about the initiative, referendum and recall, Col. Roosevelt said:

More antagonism is excited by these three proposals, and especially by the recall, than by any of the other planks in the (National Progressive Republican) league platform. With these three devices it is particularly a case of a means to an end.

Mr. Needham quotes Col. Roosevelt's fellow Rough Rider, John C. Greenway, as saying:

"Col. Roosevelt's greatest ambition is to be shot on the field of battle."

"And are you mamma's boys or papa's boys?" "The courts haven't decided as yet, madam. We're in litigation."—Kansas City Journal.
